

Wellness Coaches USA to Present at World Congress Event

Blue Bell, PA – January 6, 2010 – Wellness Coaches USA is excited to announce that it has been selected to present at the 2010 5th Annual Health and Human Capital World Congress Event in Washington, D.C., along with our client, the City of Las Vegas.

Attendees will discover how the City of Las Vegas was able to create an effective workplace wellness program during our presentation on Thursday, February 4, 2010. Presenters are, Gene McGuire of Wellness Coaches USA, and Victoria J. Robinson of the City of Las Vegas. The presentation is titled "Going Where No Municipality Has Ever Gone Before: A New Dimension in Employee Wellness."

By attending the presentation, the City of Las Vegas will demonstrate how:

- Workplace wellness initiatives can be integrated to produce "best in class" results
- Onsite "coach powered" wellness can achieve and sustain extremely high levels of employee participation and engagement in wellness
- A large employer can effectively integrate wellness programs, disease management and consumer driven health to produce industry leading outcomes

The Mission of the 5th Annual Employer Health & Human Capital Congress is to help our executive delegation of large employers:

- Control healthcare cost trend
- Improve employee health, wellness and productivity
- Implement creative benefits redesign strategies

The annual EHC Congress agenda encourages our executive delegation to make strategic and specific actions to improve the management of employee benefits, health & wellness programs and the delivery of effective economic incentives for better employee health. The Congress annually attracts over 500 delegates across the country from the nation's fortune 1000 employers. Every year attendees network and discuss challenges with an exclusive audience of the most senior HR and benefits executives from the nation's leading companies.
